

QUILTS

I see in the Clarksburg Telegram of February 19, that Mrs. John A. McLaughlin, of Marlinton, won first place in the quilt show held by the W. L. Morrison Store Company of Clarksburg. Mrs. McLaughlin was given first honors in the applique group. There was a total of 260 quilts entered, and the prize winning quilts are now on display at the store in Clarksburg.

Mrs. McLaughlin was awarded second honors in the Sears and Roebuck quilt show in Philadelphia, in which more than 1700 quilts were entered. She also won first prize on quilts at the Pocahontas County Fair in 1933, and the blue ribbon in the quilt show of the Woman's Club of Marlinton. 1933.

Odd Census Taking

Nopaltzin, chief of the Chicthimecan tribe of Indians that once inhabited the valley of Mexico, devised a simple plan for taking the census of his subjects. Under his system no census-taker trod upon the newly washed front porch of the careful housewife, leaving footprints in sticky clay. Nor did the agent inquire into the private matter of the family head. Instead, each subject placed a small stone for each member of his family. Carriers then collected the stones and hauled them to an open field, where they were counted and placed in heaps. Twelve of these heaps have been discovered by scientists and a count of the stones indicates the Chicthimecan tribe contained 3,200,000 members.

zine.

"Haunted" by an Odor

A Monmouthshire farmhouse here is "haunted" by an odor of violets, says the Newport (England) correspondent of the Associated Press.

An overpowering perfume of freshly-gathered violets fills one of the rooms to such an extent that the tenant has had to vacate it, and although the floorboards have been examined and the walls distempered the odor persists. The house is nearly three hundred years old.

A legend has been unearthed of a girl who was stabbed on her wedding morning by a jilted lover, and the story says that she was killed while arranging a bowl of violets.

The farmer discredits the tale, but careful investigation leaves the mystery unsolved.

HUNTERS MUST PAY.

Legislature at the regular session recently closed amended the law so that all hunters living in the State must pay a license of $1.00 before licenses to hunt are issued in which the applicant is required to be issued free.

THE FRENCH TAX ON BACHELORS.—A tax is proposed on bachelors in the next French budget. The preamble reads: "Considering the growing decrease in the population of France it has become necessary to impose a tax on all single persons over — years of age of the male sex." Some of the causes of this decrease are that no Frenchman under twenty-five can marry without the consent of his parents. This consent is invariably withheld if the girl is portionless. On the other hand, if the girl be well provided for, her kinsfolk will not only not let her marry unless the man's marriage portion be equal to hers, but they will effectually prevent all possibility of her making the acquaintance of a poor man. In France an invitation to a private dinner or ball is generally preceded by an inquiry into the financial position of the recipient of such an invitation, which for thoroughness, will beat anything and everything detectives in London or Paris could accomplish.

IN SEN
TH ON—Habits

The Greenbrier Independent.

THURSDAY, APRIL 9TH, 1885.

LOCAL MATTERS.

GREENBRIER County Court will convene next Monday, the 13th instant.

THE proprietors of the Lewisburg Steam Mill wish it known that they are now making both flour and meal at said mill.

THE new Sign erected last week by Mr. Richard Thomas at his "Furniture and Chair Factory" is one of the most attractive in Lewisburg.

MR. JOHN V. PERRY, one of Monroe county's most substantial and valuable citizens, died at his home near Sinks Grove last Saturday, in the 79th year of his age.

THE Nicholas County cattle on the 27th of March 38 year old cattle left Birch ties in the northwest. been wintered here and der. The farmers of this 700 and 900 head of cat this winter, besides the NARROW ESCAPE.—siding with Mr. C. E. I a narrow escape from night. With the inte medicine for the bene which he was suffering hold of a bottle of ac tablespoonful, drank Lynch a few momen sensation cause by t take was fortunate

Andrew Herald, John B. McCutcheon, A. J. Moore, Wm. P. Hogsett, Sam'l C. Kincaid, Morgan Grimes, Gilmer Sharp, R. W. Hill, Joseph Smith, N. H. Bruffey, Geo. W. Whiting, George Gibson, Aaron Kee, Allen T. Moore and Jas. A. McCollum.

Indictments were found against the following parties, viz: An indictment against Walter Johnson for carrying deadly weapons, capias awarded; also, against James Townsend for carrying deadly weapons; against Pleasant A. Smith and Caroline Beverage, for lewd and lascivious co-habitation; against William Gum, for carrying deadly weapons; against Andrew C. Wooddell, for assault with intent to commit a rape; and against Amos Dilly, Jacob L. Slaven, John Galford, Adam Arbogast, John A. Sheets and Brown Galford, for assault and battery.

The following visiting attorneys were in attendance upon this term of the Court, viz: Gen. Wm. Skeen, of Alleghany county, Va.; L. H. Stephenson and C. P. Jones, Esqs., of Highland, Va.; John W. Stephenson, Esq.,

A LARGE SALARY.

Lillian Gish, the D. W. Griffith motion picture player featured in "Hearts of the World" and other works, has signed a contract with the Frohman Amusement Corporation for three years at a salary said to be in excess of $500,000 a year. She is not to appear in more than five productions a year. Miss Gish is a former A. C. I. student at Alameda.

WOMEN TO VOTE.

The Tennessee Legislature on Wednesday ratified the Woman Suffrage Amendment to the U. S. Constitution. This means that the women of West Virginia will have the vote this fall, unless the Tennessee Legislature changes its action before it adjourns, which is not likely, because it was called together for the exclusive purpose of ratification or rejection of this amendment.

GEON,
W. VA., the citizens
ention to all

EON, Hillsboro',
ices to the
brier o un-
ly.

Equal to
s. a box.—
SBEE, lderson.

r & Neer's
best used—MERY'S.

him. A cheerful, hopeful, courageous disposition is valuable and should be assiduously cultivated.

 Some genius has invented a machine to play pianos. There will be a large demand for it. In the morning the machine can be set playing the piano in place of the daughter, and the latter can help her mother get breakfast ready. Or the owner can start the automaton in the evening and then go down town and let his next door neighbor do all the swearing. It no doubt possesses many other advantages.

 There is a glory that is unending and fadeless, and the subscriber who pays in advance is the chap that will hook on to the same.

he pulled tickles m
my look
Empty

If our
blin mo

 his shar
Mr. Go to make the ecs
being w in the l

 T
pulling giving

...and it isn't right for me to encourage your attention. I can be a sister to you, and nothing more. Therefore you needn't buy me any valentine, or give me any more gum."

 A New York man who sued a railroad for killing his cow has lost his case.—
The railroad company proved by seventeen witnesses that the schedule of the road was posted on a fence right where the cow could see it, and besides that, the engineer winked four times at it, but the reckless animal would not take the hint.—Pittsburg Telegraph.

 That was a very sensible police judge who, in dismissing a case a few days since in St. Joseph, Mo., said: "I shall dismiss every case of woman-insulting where it can be shown that the woman first flirted with the accused."

 "Let me make the songs of a nation,

E. McClung,
Little Willie
s of his short
ut he is now
u more."

S.
7th, 1883.
generally been
at a frac-
most deal-
en more in
was not as
ddle grades
t as plenti-4a7. with er 100 lbs
ity, 6.25-
lium 4.25-ceipts 1198
ceipts, 5.-
The re-399 head. s 7½a9¼c.

ttle dull.
00 lbs.—
nbs—Re-
at 5a7½c.,
ine—Re-
bs.
e, slow;
ood 0.50-
common
ull; rec., and
receipts,

S.
Va.

Clerk Clr. Cl. Pocahontas County.
May 10-4w. Printer's fee, $8.75.

COMMISSIONER'S SALE OF LAND
— IN —
POCAHONTAS COUNTY.

PURSUANT to a decree of the Circuit Court of said county, in the chancery suit of Emily Alderman vs. Jacob Gillespie's Heirs, &c., at its April term, 1883, the undersigned Commissioners of the Court, will proceed, on Monday, the 18th day of June, 1884, to sell to the highest bidder, at public auction, in front of the Courthouse door of said county, a tract of land of which Jacob Gillespie died seized and upon which he resided at the time of his death, situate near Green Bank, in said county, on the north fork of Deer creek, containing by estimation 81 acres, subject, however, to the life estate of the widow of said Jacob Gillespie, dec'd., in 11½ acres thereof including the buildings thereon, which has been assigned in said suit as her dower.

TERMS OF SALE.

Cash in hand sufficient to pay costs of suit and expenses of sale, and the residue of the purchase money payable in three equal installments at 6, 12 and 18 months from day of sale, with interest from said day, the purchaser to execute bonds with good security for the deferred installments, and the title to be retained as ultimate security.

R. S. TURK.
F. J. SNYDER, Commissioners.

I, John J. Beard, Clerk of the Circuit Court of Pocahontas county, W. Va., do certify that bond has been given in the above cause as required by law.

JOHN J. BEARD,
Clerk.

May 10-4w.

Printer's fee, $10.00.

Gnar,
Lee B

NOTICE is of a dec-
hontas coun-
cause on the
proceed, as my office in Virginia, on Wednesd
to state the
First. Al-
against the
their respect-
ties.
Secondly,
Burner and Thirdly,
stated deem
or required
At the tir
interested a

April 19-

Valua

I OFFER
Mill pro
Greenbrier
derson. Th
acres of lar
and a small
is an excel
water-powe
convenient
property wi
parcels to place a sple
good spring

The Greenbrier Independent.

Locals.—Hereafter twenty cents per line will be charged for Local notices for each insertion. Right words may be estimated to a line. RR This charge will be strictly adhered to. RR

And Special notices, in small type immediately preceding marriages and deaths, will be inserted at the rate of 15 cents per line.

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENTS.—Political notices, article advocating candidates for office and announcements of candidates, will be charged for each insertion.

THURSDAY, FEB. 21ST, 1884.

LOCAL MATTERS.

WE are indebted to Hon. C. P. Snyder for public documents.

THE February term of Fayette Circuit Court will convene next Monday, the 25th instant.

LOWE.—On Wednesday either in Lawsbu ing to Honcever a sum of money paid if left with Lewisburg.

WE learn man that jail at Uni escaped from the 12th had procured bored a

REY an E terly

He was the father of Mrs. S. H. Clark and Mrs. Wm. Curry and Geo. W. Hill, Esq., of Hillsboro.

The Jail at Huntersville is almost completed, and will be an elegant structure of the kind.

A new bridge at Huntersville, over Knapp's creek, is much talked of, and no doubt will soon be built.

Engineers are now on the railroad leading from Harrisonburg, Va., through this county.

Renick's Valley Items.

The snake from Muddy Creek, mentioned in your "Blue Sulphur Items," has not yet arrived in Renick's Valley. Since the melting of the snow we conclude that its progress has been impeded, and that it got stuck in the mud. However, it may have slipped in quietly and effected a "compromise" with the ground-hog, as said ground-hog has been seen several times during the last few days, notwithstanding the 2nd instant was "bright and clear." So you see we still have some ground-hogs left. Or eh? Well, she ain't got but three pictures, and they're made on tin. Reckin she can keep 'em in a box a while longer."

159. One night a woman was trying hard to get her drunken husband home, and as she pulled him along the street her words and actions were so tender that a bystander said, "Well, all drunkards' wives haven't your disposition." "Sh-h! don't say anything," she replied in a whisper, "I've got to call him pet names to get him home; but wait till he drops in the front—passage—be there then!"

160. "Didn't you promise to love, honor and obey me?" said the husband after a wordy wrangle with his wife. "Yes," came the reply with a hiss, "but you were so exceedingly tender then that I thought you'd

158. A women shot him under the mate of with le bouquet with tw and ex

159. hear ab ten tab plied T

160. classes dinner, than a

Cattle?
INS,
TION.
rmers.
ish the ocahon-
a with

The Greenbrier Independent.

Locals—Hereafter twenty cents per line will be charged for Local notices for each insertion. Eight words may be estimated to a line. ✂ This charge will be strictly adhered to. ✂

And Special notices, in small type immediately preceding marriages and deaths, will be inserted at the rate of 15 cents per line.

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENTS—Political notices, article advocating candidates for office and announcements of candidates, will be charged for each insertion.

THURSDAY, MARCH 13TH, 1884.

LOCAL MATTERS.

MONROE Circuit Court will convene next Monday.

WEATHER prophets are now prognosticating a dry Summer.

WE are indebted to Hons. J. N. Camden and C. P. Snyder for Congressional favors.

DWELLING-HOUSE
ing-house of Mr. W
Pool," in this county
day night last. Mr
of his household
posed to have been
an old kitchen fire
Nicholas County

BIG

We notice a M
moving his fam
on Big Clear C
Rev. S. F. M
visiting his fa
The recent
a stop to the
Rev. Sam
The other

General Jail Delivery.

Our County Jail is composed of (1) brick walls with iron grated windows, (2) a corridor or net-work of iron bars which of itself is a substantial prison, and (3) a cluster of iron cells in which the prisoners are confined separately during the night. In daytime the cell doors are thrown open and the prisoners are permitted to exercise themselves around the square of cells but within the corridor.—Such is the mechanical construction that the Jailor can stand outside of the corridor, out of harm's way, and when the inmates have retired to the "inner prison" for the night the cell doors are locked by a single movement of an iron rod extending outside of the corridor. Admittance within the brick walls or main part of the Jail is effected through an iron door which is also strongly barred and bolted. Last Tuesday evening, about dark, when our Jailor, Mr. Geo. W. Branham, entered to lock up as usual, all of his prisoners—four in number—made their escape. It seems that by some means they had succeeded during the day in sawing out a square hole in the corridor, which admitted them to the outside aisle around the building, and when Mr. Branham entered and advanced and Mr.

case. N

MILL

The mill
Union,
cidents
and wa
Mathe
retiring
About
found
by spr
mill l
grain
lumb
had f
some had this near was A
tere
this on bro fou
wit
fro
mo

will! hole in the corridor, which admitted them to the outside aisle around the building, and when Mr. Branham entered and advanced to the locking-bar they tip-toed around the opposite side of the cells and made a rush for the door. Before Mr. B. was aware, all four of his "jail birds" were free and one of them, with a mocking laugh, was locking him on the inside. This one was Joo. Sharp, from Pocahontas, who was awaiting his trial upon a charge of horse-stealing. Whilst the door was being locked Mr. B. drew and leveled his pistol through the grating and fired at the back of Sharp as he was making his exit. The other three were Jack DePriest, charged with arson, James Martin, charged with hog-stealing, and Harvey Davis (colored,) imprisoned upon a capias and suspected of the recent burning of Sheriff Jas. Knight's stable. As the four were running across the Tan-yard lot Sharp was heard to cry out, "Hold on, boys—I'm shot!" but being abandoned he sunk down upon a pile of shingles, from which he was shortly afterward removed to the Jail. The ball had entered at the lower point of the left shoulder-blade, and, passing through the lung, came out above the left nipple. He was at-

without front of moment
the ch
before
ered,
Irons
that r
the v
The r
to be ited
Whe
welc 40 b
the year
juri

T mit
Cor 188
A.
in ored,) imprisoned upon a capias and suspected of the recent burning of Sheriff Jas. Knight's stable. As the four were running across the Tan-yard lot Sharp was heard to cry out, "Hold on, boys—I'm shot!" but being abandoned he sunk down upon a pile of shingles, from which he was shortly afterward removed to the Jail. The ball had entered at the lower point of the left shoulder-blade, and, passing through the lung, came out just above the left nipple. He was attended by Drs. Lake and Patrick. The wound is a very serious if not a fatal one.—The corridor was cut with a saw formed by notching a case-knife, which was accomplished by degrees by using at meal-time the other knives to make the teeth. Last night Harvey Davis returned to the Jail and gave himself up. He reported DePriest and Martin as hanging around the neighborhood of the "Little Sulphur," near Lewisburg.—When Sharp turned his head on the pillow and saw that Davis had returned he swooned away and was with difficulty resuscitated.

P, er in ANITE

s, &c. Or-Satisfaction
opposite the

MILLS, VIRGINIA.
d Building
les, Laths, ugs at any
ounties.

r, Etc.,

antee sat-
p. 1-6m.

ng.

usiness, in e present

RKINS.

Y,
ST VA.

ts of this business.

PRESTON

W. F. A.

privately they are welcome to do so. Yours truly,
C. MARKS.

De Naixt Lady.

At a negro baptizing the other day a slim preacher took a fat sister down into the water of a bayou. Just as he dipped her under the water she slipped from his grasp and glided under the root of a cypress tree from which sad entanglement it was impossible to extricate her until life was extinct. The preacher, without the slightest show of embarrassment, raised his hand and turning to the crowd exclaimed:

"The Lawd gibbeth an' de Lawd taketh away, blessed be the name of the Lawd."

"Dat's all right so fur as de Lawd's consarned," replied the drowned woman's husband, "but what's I guine to do? I aint no 'jections to de Lawd takin' her away ef he vide me another wife 'bout de same size."

"De Lawd knows his own business," said the preacher.

"But dat aint de pint," persisted the husband; "I wants a wife, an' wants her right heah. Yerse'f tuck dat 'oman into de water, an' I'se guine to hole yerse'f 'esponsible.—I'll gin yer ten minutes ter git me a wife, an' ef at de end of dat time yer ain't done made 'rangements, I'll maul yer till yer couldn't babtize a cat. Does yer heab?"

The preacher reflected for a moment, and, addressing a sister, said: "Sister Kate, to keep down a disturbance, won't yerse'f marry de gen'leman?"

The sister agreed that immediate matrimony was somewhat in her line; and then the grief-stricken husband, turning to the preacher, exclaimed: "De settlement am satisfactory, brudder. Souce de naixt lady," Raleigh News and Observer.

This farm has n
Before the hou
dwelling it had
hatter shop.
lucrative pursu
part of the 19
choice of a v
nine daughters
carpenter who
ington and e
Woodson hou
joining lot wh
by the Union
eight remaini
to Knapps.)
a livelihood,
(Wm. P., A
and Smith,)
—wedded to

Alexander.
as clerk in a
business wh
his own inv
commence
never resu
served the Police, and came his wi
dren he cou

George is cinnati. H
Nevie in L (came unke

back and risk a good
her Majesty, the three," answered the

by Grace Green-
ness as acquiring
She was visiting
orth House. One
about the garden,
not know her, saw
ing a treacherous

play?" he called the Princess,

the same moment
er and down she

the gardener,

d against her
best practice
very day. He ere was no
that only by e "mistress
her pocket,
there is a
ess of the

and more-
standard of immoral
the pro-
history,
restrains
fine and
d eyes
ure and
at them
ry and
mer or child's bring on. I've a haidin' on to dat las' alicie of milkin' in case o' famine in dis yer shanty."

"But don't you see, I can't understand your ruse unless you can tell me where you felt
that feels the worse?"

and dis morrie' I tought 'twas my head,
But at dis yer 'death' minute I can't jes' tell which one am afood. Ise so sick all over dat
I ain't partic'lar 'bout any one spot!"
The doctor, finally giving up to despair his
attempt to make a diagnosis, gave a prescription that would cure half a dozen different diseases, and then went his way.

How to Cook Warsaw

like a child. "Boys," said the doctor, "you can laugh if you please, but I—I have a baby of my own at home, and I—I have a baby drink another drop." Then he got up and went into another car. His companions glanced at each other in silence. No one laughed; the bottle disappeared, and soon each was sitting in a seat by himself reading a newspaper.

What Ailed Him.

Those who have practiced medicine among the colored people know that a negro when is sick, he is very well indeed, but when he is sick, he is sick all over. This peculiarity should be kept in mind while reading the following incident, showing how a doctor was bothered to find out what ailed a colored patient:

"Yo see, doctor," said a sick colored man, who had called to a physician, "dis hyer pain runs right fro my body from right lef' foot. An' I've so weak I dose pretend to stan' nobow. An' I've a wassen yoo to prescribe fur me something or other."

"Can't you locate your pain, some where?"
asked the doctor, as he seated himself by the bed.

"What's dat?" asked the sick man, raising himself up in bed.

"Why, tell me what part of your body pains you most."

"Ob! Well, boss, I reckon I kin jes' do
dat. Dar's a drefful cur'us sensation a-creepin' along de top of my head, an'
now an' den I feels a mighty mean streak in de small of my back; an' las' night, when Ile, I was took wid a sudden faintin' in my lef' leg."

"What have you been eatin'?" asked the physician, feeling his way cautiously in another direction.

"So help me de Lawd! I ain't had nosh'n half a dozen alices o' watermelon, an' dis morrie' one n' de chillun cooked me some hard-boiled eggs, but I didn't eat nosh'n six o' 'em."

"Does your stomach hold its food?"

"Yo's about right dar, doctor. Dis yer child's stomach's good for all de food kin
bring on. I've a haidin' on to dat las' alicie

of milkin' in case o' famine in dis yer shanty."
"But don't you see, I can't understand your
ruse unless you can tell me where you felt
that feels the worse?"

"Wall, las' night I tought 'twas my head,
But at dis yer 'death' minute I can't jes' tell which one am afood. Ise so sick all over dat
I ain't partic'lar 'bout any one spot!"
The doctor, finally giving up to despair his
attempt to make a diagnosis, gave a prescription that would cure half a dozen different diseases, and then went his way.

How to Cook Warsaw

owner as much as to the transfer of the company which carries them.

The agent of a baggage express asked a lady in the case if she had any baggage to be delivered. "Yes," she said, "but I had great trouble finding one of my trunks, and I can't have this one lost."

The agent, assuring her that it would be delivered safely, inquired where she wanted it delivered.

"To the steamer Arago," she answered.

"The Arago?" said he, "are you sure it is the Arago? That sails at three o'clock."

"Yes, that is right."

The trunk was delivered, but the lady did not appear, and at three o'clock it started for France on board the Arago.

When the agent returned to the office he found a policeman and the lady waiting for him. "This lady has entered a complaint against us," said the express manager.

"I have not seen that trunk yet!" exclaimed the lady, with much indignation.

"I don't think you will see it either, for some time," answered the man. "That trunk has gone to France. Don't you remember that I asked you a second time about the steamer?" You said the steamer Arago."

"I know it, but I meant Argo."

This was a little steamboat which crossed to New Jersey from near the French steamer's wharf. It cost ten dollars and six weeks of time to get that trunk back to its owner.

CHURLISH.—Our grandmothers used to cry over "Thaddens of Warsaw" and the "Scottish Chiefs." When "Thaddens" was first published in London, in 1803, it made a sensation, and Jane Porter, its author, suddenly found herself famous.

Lord Abercorn, an eccentric nobleman, had a passion for inviting to his great houses those who had become famous or were noted for beauty. His guests had the freedom of the house. They could shoot, hunt, ride, drive, do what they liked, provided they never spoke to Lord Abercorn except at table.

As soon as "Thaddens of Warsaw" began to make a sensation his lordship said to his wife, "Hab! I we must have these Porters.— Write, my dear!"

She wrote, inviting Jane Porter and her elster, Anna, also a novelist, to pay them a visit. An answer came from Jane that they could not afford the expense of traveling.
A check was sent. When they arrived Lord Abercorn peeped at them from behind a door as they came through the hall. They were plain-looking, and he delighted in handsome women. Hunning by the private staircase to Lady Abercorn's room, he exclaimed:

"Witches! my lady. I must be off!"
He took his carriage, and remained away till the guests had departed, thus showing himself a churlish host, wanting the grace of hospitality.

Words of Wisdom.

It requires no small degree of art to know how to conceal it.

Action may not always bring happiness, but there is no happiness without action.

As a man is known by his company, so a man's company may be known by his manner of expressing himself.

Any man can do a casual act of good nature, but a continuation of them shows it is a part of their temperament.

We think our civilization is near its meridian, but we are yet only at the cock-crowing and the morning star.

The sting of every reproachful speech is the truth of it; and to be conscious is that which gives keenness to the invective.

We often meet with more instances of true charity among the ignorant and poor than among those who profess to be Christians.

There is a gentle element, and man may breathe it with a calm, unruffled soul, and drink its living waters till his heart is pure, and this is human happiness.

A flatterer is said to be a beast that biteth smiling. But it is hard to know them from friends, they are so obsequious and full of protestations. For as a wolf resembleth a dog, so doth a flatterer a friend.

Never did any soul do good but it came readier to do the same again with more enjoyment. Never was love or gratitude or bounty practised but with increasing joy, which made the practicer still more in love with the fair act.

To allow any kind of personal insult without showing resentment or retaliating by the natural consequences of coolness and withdrawal is to destroy all the safeguards of social harmony and civilization.

would undoubtedly have postponed for a year would interest both occurring before enterprise. I beg you thoroughly appreciate which you have tre matter, but your business matters has a bounded liberality course I have not sion to expect the to make as much arrangement into It is natural that this end. I am to and that is sufficient with Mr. get the interest in do not get as definite him as I have v ton in a few days opportunity to talk I am disposed with Mr. Caldwell through you. Sincerely,

W. F., Jr., Esq.

The reader ters were obtained promise by Mr. them, but that promise.

Recollect that of the House of 4, 1869, to Mr. that all the whilst he occupied one written in be nominated Fisher to copy a letter which pared and forwarded (Blaine)

RE!

FIRE IN-
New York, Town and
ent Rates,
ctfully so-

Agent.

P, in NITE

&c. Orisfaction posite the

y, VA.
County
promptly
actice in hontas.

KER,
W. Va.

y, Greene Court
8-11.

LS, GINIA. ilding Lathis,

The Greenbrier Independent.

THURSDAY, OCT. 23RD, 1884.

LOCAL MATTERS.

THIS section was visited by a refreshing rain on yesterday, (Wednesday.)

THE Third Quarterly Meeting for Lewisburg Station, M. E. Church, South, will be held on the first Sunday and Monday in November next.

Mr. T. J. Glendon died a few days ago. He was a native of this county and was well known here.

A few days ago the town of Lewisburg was visited by a heavy rain.

The bulletin boards of the modern newspapers had their precursors in these white tablets ordered to be displayed publicly by Caesar. In New York there are men who haunt the bulletin boards of the metropolitan dailies, jot down the news displayed thereon, and later telegraph the items to the dailies in small cities which do not support so extensive a news service as that furnished by the United or the Associated Press. So in Rome, the writer of news letters or circulars copied the news published "in albo" and sent the most important items to his subscriber out of the city. Scandal was featured in "Acto Diurna," and society news, in modern fashion, was furnished by families concerned.—
From the Quill.

Quality of Love.

Let our never ceasing care be to better the love that we offer our fellows. One cup of this love that is drawn from the spring on the mountain is worth a hundred taken from the stagnant well of ordinary charity.—Maeterlinck.

Captain Rene Fonck's Record.

The highest official score for bringing down Hun flyers, according to Flying, goes to Captain Rene Fonck of the French army. Before the armistice was signed he was officially credited with 75 Boche planes, but virtually he brought down over 100. On two different occasions he brought down six machines in a few minutes. Fonck was a wonderful flyer and was among the first to perform the "barrel" maneuver during an aerial battle. The French government has conferred on him nearly every decoration in its power to give.—Scientific American.

AL

O. D.

T. H.

JOHN

W. W.

Rev. J. W. Knight, of Ludlow, Mo., believes in advertising, as a recent advertisement he inserted which is said to have brought results, testifies. This is what he said over his official signature:

“Lost! Strayed! Or stolen! A large flock of Methodist sheep! Have been gone for some time. When last seen they were browsing along the byway of Indifference that opens out into the road of Neglect, leading to the highway of Worldliness that ends in the state of Apostasy. Any one finding same will please drive them home, if possible, and receive an ample reward. If they persistently refuse to come home, drive them into the nearest fold, lock the door and report to the undersigned. Sufficient fodder for the entire flock will be provided at the next Sunday morning at the usual feeding place.

years. On Nov-
home in Lewis-
daughter of Mr.
Thomas, aged 3

pendent of the names four men
nks the Demo-
e a good choice
ge A. B. Flemoseph B. Van-
anty; John A.
er, and P. C.
Of. Mr. Pres-
young lawyer
out reproach
d are as true
and fine ex-

S.
of the deeds
Paul C. Hog-
rior County 13th, 1919:
et ux to G.
(less 101a)
ict.

to Geo. L. n Blue Sul-

A. M. Hub-11 on Ron-and 42 on

Salisbury
White

Sold by the Lewisburg Drug Store and other druggists.

GOATS' MILK FINDING FAVOR

Prejudice Against This Cheap and Nutritious Food Seems in Fair Way to Disappear.

Goats, it must be admitted, have never been taken seriously by public opinion in the United States, and the news that the owner of the largest herd in the American Northwest is preparing to establish an extensive dairy for the sale of goats' milk will probably seem to many rather humorous. As a matter of fact, however, it appears that a promising beginning is already made, and that the city of Seattle, conveniently near the great herd of goats on Cypress island, in the Puget Sound archipelago, already consumes about a thousand quarts of goats' milk a day. Publicity will perhaps be necessary to overcome the American habit of regarding the goat humorously, and it may take time and patience to prove widely the statement of the owner of the herd that goats' milk is quite as good, if not actually better, than cows' milk. Five cents a day, says he, will pay the cost of keeping a goat whose average milk production is two or three quarts; and two quarts of milk bed Mr.

a sister
citinati
the ch
Worth
got a Warne
named where

Alvi
rage a station
ing fo

"Th
plaine Worth
mobile
her la
ones r
young
It her after
is hap
where

It w next d
forty
down
mile t
the ga
Many Alvin
tance
dark o
road.

cents a day, says he, will pay the cost of keeping a goat whose average milk production is two or three quarts; and two quarts of milk for 5 cents would make a considerable difference in the food expense of a family. The goat dairy may be more important than it seems; and ten years from now such dairies may be commonplace.

Glass-Decorating Old Art.

The art of glass decorating is not a modern Bohemian accomplishment. It thrived in the seventeenth century. The Roman cathedral of Prague, in 1726, boasted two windows which were decorated with Old and New Testament scenes. Decorative windows soon became a favorite form of church ornamentation. The churches of the Czechs possessed many high and wide windows which were brightly and artistically decorated, Asnaes Sylvius, who later became Pope Plus II, observed. The curriculum of the division of technical arts of the University of Prague included courses in painting, wood carving and glass ornamentation. No degree was conferred on a student unless he could exhibit sufficient aptitude as a "glass man" or qualify in

tance i
dark o
road.
acciden
car, he
ly. A
the col
Hilda

"Wh
he soli
Mrs.
that of they v
back startin
collar

He
for sh
ing hi
explai
his wh
and A

Myra
coming mobile with A insiste
childre
She ha
sister,

STATE FOR SEGRATION OF NEGROES.

Establishment of a separate state under the protection of the United States for the segregation of the nation's negro population was advocated before the House judiciary committee by representative of the negro race. The committee is considering a resolution by Representative Mason, Republican of Illinois, providing for the appointment of a commission of nine persons to outline a plan to promote more harmonious relations between races dwelling in the United States.

Dr. Moses Maden, of St Louis, told the committee a state should be establish along the Rio Grande river on territory ceded by Mexico and the state of Texas, and that it should be inhabited and administered entirely by negroes under the general protection of the United States.

the upper air, and that the claim was made for the rocket that it might even be possible to send it to the moon and to Mars.

Since then Marconi, the wireless wizzard, has stated that he believes that in a short time he will establish communication with the Martians. He has discovered atmospheric or etherial disturbances that he feels sure are signals for Mars and it remains only to decipher their meaning to communicate intelligently with Earth's nearest neighbors.

Now comes Captain Claude R. Collins, of Philadelphia, and says that in order to aid science and to arouse the people of the nation to make America the peer of other nations in the air, he will volunteer to place himself in a super-rocket to make a leap from the earth to Mars.

WONDERFUL FEAT OF A SOLDIER.

On octobe 8, 1918, Sergeant Alvin York and seven privates, advancing on a German position in the Argonne, facing an entire machine gun battalion. Official records show that York killed 20 Germans with his automatic pistol and rifle, captured 132 prisoners, and put 35 machine guns out of action. York received the highest military decoration—the Congressional Medal of Honor. Upon his return from France, the Tennessee Legislature engines

cars.—

also were received, it is said.

reced
zette

RT.

00 fruit
aged by ding to Shaw.
Univer-
hile ret of the red that north-
a were e dam-

MUST SEPARATE PASSENGERS.

The Supreme Court at Washington April 19th upheld the Kentucky separate coach act, requiring the separation of white and negro passengers, and holding that it applied to the South Covington & Cincinnati, Covington & Erlanger Railway Company while operating between points in Kentucky. Justices Vandevanter, Pitney and Day dissented in part.

Citizens of Alabama recently ratified a state road bond issue of

T
ers
con
sh
dir
dec Yo Fo
ely
it
sh
pr
pi
be

MUST SEPARATE PASSENGERS.

The Supreme Court at Washington April 19th upheld the Kentucky separate coach act, requiring the separation of white and negro passengers, and holding that it applied to the South Covington & Cincinnati, Covington & Erlanger Railway Company while operating between points in Kentucky. Justices Vandevanter, Pitney and Day dissented in part.

that Mr. Kitchin would return to his duties completely recovered.

THE HORSELESS TOWN.

Denver has done it—has been the first city of any size to legislate the horse off its streets. Its city council has passed an ordinance which provides that no horse or horse drawn vehicle may be brought within the corporate limits of the city.

ILLEGAL SEIZURE OF LIQUOR.

"The seizure of this property was unwarranted and unlawful. Neither the liquor nor the information can be used as evidence in this case."

U. S. District Judge Peck, in an opinion Monday at Cincinnati made that statement to the Federal liquor inspectors who recently went to the place at 1233 Richmond street of that city and seized two bottles of liquor.

"The opinion of Judge Peck is in line with the Supreme Court decision," U. S. District Attorney Clark said. "Liquor agents must not exceed their authority. They can search only when properly armed with a warrant. At least 15 cases were thrown out at Dayton, Ohio last week by the grand jury because the evidence was unlawful."

hundred years before anything could be seen.

HOW ROMANS GOT THE NEWS

Bulletin Boards Furnished Information to the Citizens of the "Capital of the World."

Gaius Julius Caesar knew the value of publicity. As far back as, when he was consul (60 B. C.) he ordered the publication of senate acts and discussions. These "Acta Senatus" were published on a whitened wooden board called "album," the neuter of "albus," which means white. In imperial days, at least as early as 29 A. D., there was an official publisher, "Curator Actorum." This news corresponded to what we get in our Congressional Record, and contained—as our record once did—the interruptions and the applause. In 60 B. C., Caesar also ordered published "in albo" the private news of general interest, "Acta Diurna Populi Romani."

The bulletin boards of the modern newspapers had their origin in these